

A&WMA Presents a Webinar on ENVIRONMENTAL CAREERS
A Path to Your Future
Wednesday April 2, 2008
12:30 pm EDT

Hear what a range of industry professionals think about current and future careers in the Environmental Industry. Panelists will speak on what jobs and qualifications are hot in consulting engineering and industry; hiring trends in different regions of North America; what academic training is in demand; what trends and changes are coming in the future; starting and eventual salaries in different positions; and, how to find job openings.

Webinar Agenda

12:30 Introduction and Overview

*Harry Klodowski, Esq., Betts, Hull & Klodowski LLC, Pittsburgh, PA
Past Chair – A&WMA Education Council*

12:35 Trends in EHS Hiring 2003 to the Present.

Rich Fiore, Search Consultants International, Houston, TX

12:45 Job Opportunities in Consulting Engineering Firms

Gale Hoffnagle, Senior V.P., TRC Environmental, Windsor, CT

12:55 A Young Professional's Perspective on Industrial Environmental Careers

Meghan Roe, Manager EHS-Coatings, PPG Industries, Pittsburgh, PA

1:05 The Environmental Market in Canada

Grant S. Trump, President & CEO, ECO Canada

1:15 A Multi-path Perspective on Environmental Careers

Nancy Pfeffer, President, Network Public Affairs, Long Beach, CA

1:25 Panel Discussion on Presentations

1:50 Questions and Comments

2:00 Close

Questions can be submitted by internet or telephone during the Webinar.

* Hurry – Sections, Chapters, Student Chapters, and colleges or universities sign up today. The first 50 sites are complimentary. Additional sites are available for $50 each. An internet connection and phone line are required for program download. Presentation software must be downloaded on your computer prior to event. Register at www.awma.org/go/environmentalcareers08. Contact Stephanie Glyptis, sglyptis@awma.org or 412-904-6006. Food and drink and a local guest speaker may be supplied at your location by your local A&WMA member unit. Students, check the A&WMA website for details on who to contact in your area.