Navigating the Emerging Energy Environment
Virtual Conference • November 17-18, 2020

Welcome to the Virtual MEGA Symposium! This conference will examine the various perspectives on electric power issues as the industry transitions to a cleaner footprint with advanced, cost-effective and reliable energy solutions.

With two concurrent tracks, the symposium will also examine policy, regulation, science and technology opportunities and requirements for climate, waste, air, and water. Click on the conference day below to access the schedule and livestream links.
