Draft Manuscript Submittal Deadline Extended to March 30

Due to the volume of extension requests we have received for submission of manuscripts, and in part to allow time for a clearer picture to emerge on how the current public health situation with COVID-19 is impacting everyone, we have extended the deadline for submitting draft manuscripts until March 30, 2020 (from March 16).

The April 15, 2020 deadline for Panel Synopses remains unchanged.

Any further extension requests should be made by contacting your Session Chair or the Technical Program Team. Please send correspondence related to your submittal to your Session Chair, but be sure to copy the Technical Program Team at techprogram@awma.org and harishgrao@gmail.com.

We are still asking reviewers to complete their reviews as quickly as possible and ask authors to follow up and make any necessary revisions and submit their final manuscripts by the end of the review period on May 4, 2020.

If you have any questions, please send them to the A&WMA Technical Program Team (techprogram@awma.org) and copy Harish Rao (harishgrao@gmail.com) in all communications. Please state the submittal number in all correspondence.

Thank you for your participation in the Conference and for your support of the Association.
